ADAMS COUNTY
COLORADO

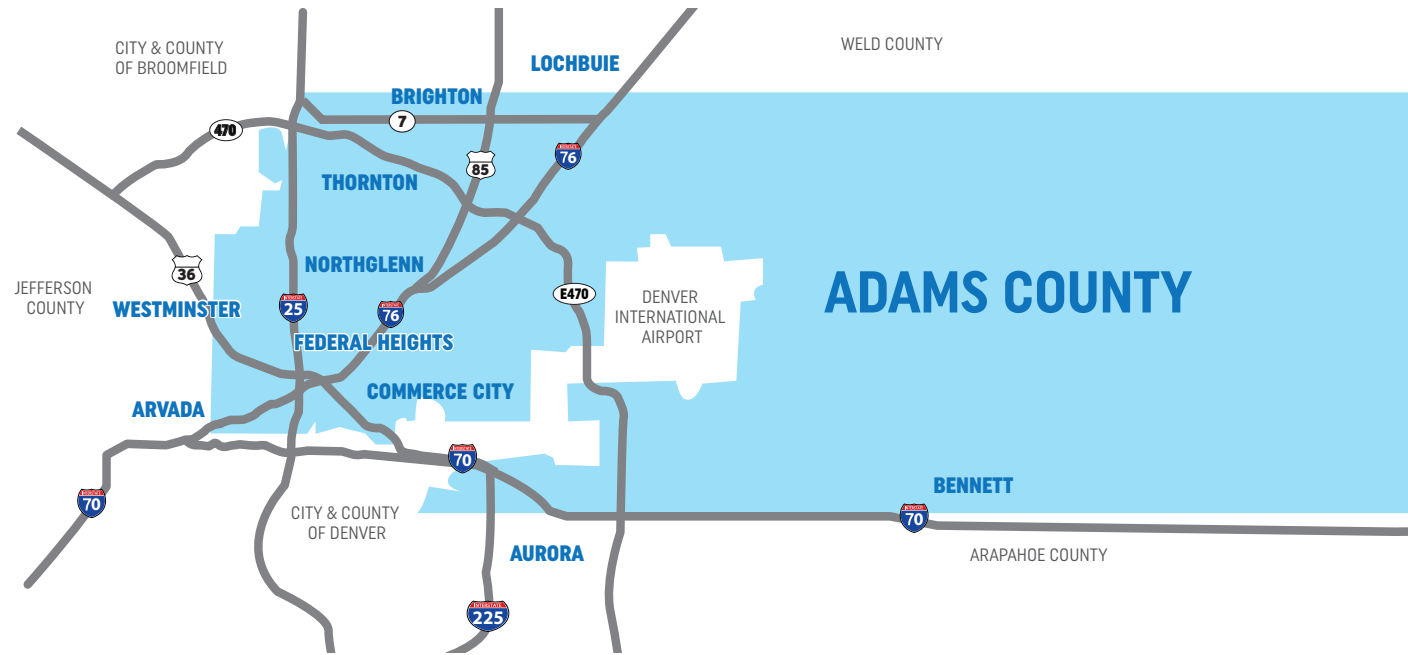

Welcome to the first edition of Adams County’s Business Guidebook, created by the Economic Development Division within the Community & Economic Development Department. This guidebook is intended to help businesses navigate some of the possible county processes and/or requirements needed to conduct business in Adams County. We understand there can be a lot of information to keep track of when owning a business, and we hope this resource is valuable as you start, grow, and maintain your enterprise.

We appreciate you conducting business in Adams County.

ABOUT ADAMS COUNTY

Adams County is a growing county in the Denver metro area with an abundance of land development opportunities that are unparalleled in the region. The county is ideally located at the crossroads of the metro region’s transportation network, which provides businesses and residents convenient access to I-25, I-70, I-270, and I-76. Adams County also surrounds Denver International Airport (DEN), connecting it to the global transportation network of the world’s sixth busiest airport, and features Class I and Class III rail lines, providing freight rail service to and from national destinations. The Regional Transportation District (RTD) provides commuter rail service throughout the western portion of the county.

Adams County has a current population of approximately 542,636 residents, which is projected to grow to 780,085 by 2050. To support and encourage economic growth throughout the county, Adams County considers economic development a strategic priority.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT SERVICES AT ADAMS COUNTY

The Adams County Economic Development Division is here to guide you and ensure you have the resources needed for a successful business. Whether you are a home-based business, solopreneur, have a brick and mortar, or operate a large company, our office is here to help.

Some of our services include:

Site Selection: If you are a business looking to locate, relocate, or expand in unincorporated Adams County, we can help you find the space you need.

Business Navigator: The Economic Development team is here to help you navigate county processes, including land use, permitting, and development. We can also connect you to our network of technical training, workforce, utility, and economic development partners at the municipal, regional, and state level.

Incentives: We execute performance-based financial and non-financial incentives on a case-by-case basis for commercial development in Adams County. We help guide you and work with you to get your project done.

Data & Market Research: We have access to the most current data and information to help with your business planning and decisions, including demographics, macroeconomic trends, competitor analysis, and labor statistics.

Business Registration Program: Adams County’s Business Registration Program allows businesses to sign up to receive updates on county resources and other relevant news. The registration is voluntary and open to all businesses located within Adams County. For more information, please visit adamscountycolorado.gov/business-registration-program, or contact economicdevelopment@adamscountycolorado.gov.

Enterprise Zone Program: The Colorado legislature created the Enterprise Zone (EZ) Program to encourage development in economically distressed areas of the state. The 16 designated Enterprise Zones have high unemployment rates, low per capita income, or slow population growth. In designated Enterprise Zones:

- Businesses are eligible for state income tax credits and sales and use tax exemptions for specific business investments.
- Taxpayers who contribute to EZ projects may earn income tax credits.

To determine if your business is located within an EZ, please visit oedit.colorado.gov/enterprise-zone-program and search your address within the interactive Enterprise Zone map. If you’re still unsure, please reach out to our team, and we will help you determine if you are eligible for the program.

A business can earn credits for adding net new employees, providing qualified job training, or investing in business personal property, and more. Details on some of the Business Tax Credits available are:

- Job Training Tax Credit (12% of eligible training costs): Businesses can earn a state income tax credit for 12% of eligible job-training costs for employees working within the EZ.
- New Employee Tax Credit ($1,100 or more per net new employee): Businesses can earn a state income tax credit of $1,100 per net new employee.
- Investment Tax Credit (3% of business personal property investment): Businesses can earn a state income tax credit for 3% of an investment in business personal property.

For more detailed information on the Enterprise Zone Program, including a list of all available business tax credits, visit the OEDIT Enterprise Zone Program website, or contact the local Enterprise Zone administrator at enterprisezone@adamscountycolorado.gov.

- For more information regarding use tax at the state level, please visit Colorado's Department of Revenue site, tax.colorado.gov.

Property Taxes

Property taxes are both assessed (Assessor's Office) and collected (Treasurer's Office) by Adams County.

Department: Assessor's Office

Jurisdiction: Incorporated and unincorporated Adams County

Contact: 720.523.6038 or assessor@adamscountyco.gov

The County Assessor is responsible for discovering, listing, classifying, and valuing all property in the county in accordance with state laws.

- Real Property
 - Real property is revalued every odd-numbered year (two-year cycle).
 - Real property is generally known as the land and the buildings or fixtures permanently attached to the property.
- Personal Property
 - Personal property is revalued every year.
 - A majority of businesses have personal property that is taxable, and personal property must be reported to the Assessor every year. Personal property is generally known as portable or movable items used for income production.
 - Examples include furniture, fixtures, computers, signage, restaurant equipment, office and business equipment, furniture in a rental unit, industrial machinery, and any other equipment used to function and operate a business.
 - All personal property is taxable unless it is specifically exempt by law. Exemptions include, but are not limited to, inventories for resale, materials, supplies consumed, and agricultural equipment.
- The Assessor's Office also handles property tax abatement. Contact them for questions and information regarding eligibility, process, deadlines, and more.
- Please notify the Assessor's Office when closing your business.

Department: Treasurer's Office

Jurisdiction: Incorporated and unincorporated Adams County

Contact: 720.523.6160 or treasurer@adamscountyco.gov

- Property taxes are collected one year in arrears.
- There are several ways you can pay your property taxes:
 - Online at adcotax.com/treasurer/web/
 - Via USPS, Adams County Treasurer, PO Box 869, Brighton, CO 80601
 - In person at the Adams County Treasurer and Public Trustee's Office within the Government Center
 - Via the black drop box located outside the main entrance of the Government Center
 - The Adams County Government Center is located at 4430 S. Adams County Pkwy., Brighton
- If your business closes, to avoid substantial penalties and the issuance of a Distraint Warrant, please notify the Treasurer's Office before removing any equipment from the business.

Public Works

Jurisdiction: Unincorporated Adams County

Contact: 720.523.6875 or publicworks@adamscountyco.gov

The Public Works Department protects the health, safety, and welfare of the residents and businesses of Adams County through superior planning, engineering, construction, maintenance, operations, and administrative services related to transportation and drainage infrastructure.

Public Works oversees:

- Road maintenance

Code Compliance

Department: Community Safety & Well-Being

Jurisdiction: Unincorporated Adams County

Contact: 720.523.2792, ext. 3 or cswb@adamscountyco.gov

The goal of Code Compliance is to maintain and improve the safety and beauty of Adams County. To accomplish this, the Adams County Board of Commissioners enacts ordinances and regulations to address issues that may be detrimental to the health, safety, economy, and general welfare of residents. Code Compliance enforces these ordinances and regulations for the use of all zoned properties in unincorporated Adams County.

Common regulations include:

- Land use (special/temporary uses, conditional uses, variance)
- Accessory structures
- Property maintenance
- Vehicles (inoperable, too many, commercial vehicles stored on a residential property, parking surface, etc.)
- Environmental blight (junk, trash, overgrown grass, scrap metal, machinery, etc.).

Code Compliance does not include enforcement on abandoned vehicles, illegal parking, or speeding. Please contact the Adams County Sheriff's Office at 303.288.1535 for these issues.

ADAMS COUNTY’S ONLINE TOOLS

The county has numerous tools available online for your convenience:

- GIS Mapping: GIS is an information system that deals with location data. Most often GIS is thought of as a mapping system, yet the real power of a GIS is in its analysis capabilities. GIS helps answer questions important to county business. From assessment to zoning, GIS has a role in analyzing and visualizing data and information. adamscountyco.gov/gis-interactive-maps
- Eye on Adams: Uses software from Building Eye to directly pull data dating back five years from Accela, the software the county uses to track permits, violations, and land use cases. The software allows users to navigate maps, filter for areas of interest, and create automated email alerts for their neighborhoods or special districts in unincorporated Adams County. adamscounty.buildingeye.com/building
- SeeClickFix: Adams County uses SeeClickFix to report issues such as inoperable/unlicensed vehicles, property cleanup, potholes, graffiti, and more. Please access the link below to report issues directly to the county or download the SeeClickFix app for your iPhone or Android device. adamscountyco.gov/report-an-issue

Adelante Community Development

Adelante Community Development (ACD) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting Latino families and entrepreneurs in Colorado. They are committed to promoting economic justice, business growth, and community resilience by offering culturally relevant resources, strategic guidance, and empowerment opportunities.

Founded by Maria Gonzalez, a lifelong community leader and owner of Gonzalez Insurance Group in Commerce City, ACD has become a trusted reference for Spanish-speaking entrepreneurs. Maria’s vision began during the 2008 recession, when she identified a need for accessible support for Latino entrepreneurs. In 2010, she launched bi-monthly business workshops that evolved into ACD, the first nonprofit in Adams County to serve monolingual, Spanish-speaking entrepreneurs.

FAQS

The Economic Development team understands business owners have a lot of questions. Through our work at the county, and in collaboration with other divisions, we’ve identified the following as the most common questions for starting, operating, or owning a business in Adams County.

Licensing

“Do I need a business license to operate in Adams County?”

Adams County does not have a business license requirement. However, it is required at the state and city level. If you are located in a city or town, you will need to license your business with your local government as well as register your business with the Colorado Secretary of State. Though the county does not have a required business license, we do have a voluntary business registration program. More information is available on pg. 15.

Jurisdiction

“My mailing address says Denver. However, I was told I am located in Adams County, not the City and County of Denver. How do I know if I am located in Adams County?”

There are mailing addresses within unincorporated Adams County that state your city as Denver, even if you/your business are not actually located in the City or County of Denver. This is why it is important to know your jurisdiction. To see if you are located in Adams County, please visit our GIS Interactive Map page and search your address within our Basic Web Map. Our GIS Interactive Map page can be found here: adamscountyco.gov/service/gis-interactive-maps/

Building Safety

“Does Adams County issue TCOs (Temporary Certificate of Occupancy)?”

No, Adams County does not issue TCOs. For additional information, please contact our Building Safety team.

“I’m a contractor, and I am registered in Thornton. Can I perform work anywhere in Adams County?”

To perform work in unincorporated Adams County, you must register as a contractor through our E-Permit Center. For work within local municipalities, please check with each jurisdiction for their requirements.

“Where do I find the status of my building permit/development application?”

You can check the status of your applications by logging into your E-Permit Center account, or you can contact our E-Permit Center to inquire about the current status of your application by calling 720.523.6800.

Utilities

“What utilities does Adams County provide?”

Adams County’s only utility service is stormwater. We maintain the stormwater infrastructure through our Public Works Department. Energy (electric and natural gas), broadband, and water and sewage are provided by various private and quasi-governmental entities.

Home-Based Businesses

“I conduct business from my home in unincorporated Adams County. Do I need a special license or permit specific to home occupation(s)?”

We do not have a license or permit specific to home occupations; however, you must abide by our Development Standards and Regulations. Information for Home Occupations as it relates to our Standards and Regulations can be found in section 4-03-03-02-07.

If you are parking a commercial vehicle on your property that is over 10,000 lbs gross vehicle weight (GVW), a permit is required. Regulations can be found in section 4-03-03-02-14.

Have additional questions? Call our Planner of the Day at 720.523.6800.

Property Information

“I’m looking at purchasing a property in Adams County, and I am curious what my property taxes will be. Who do I contact to get more information?”

Our Assessor’s Office can assist you in learning more about property taxes for properties in Adams County. They can be reached at assessor@adamscountyco.gov or 720.523.6038.

“I have a property I am interested in purchasing, and I want to know what permit records are on file for the property. Where can I search for this info, and who do I contact for a Colorado Open Records Act (CORA) request?”

You can search property profiles for records, or you can submit a CORA request for more detailed records (inspections, certificates of occupancy, etc.).

- To search for a property, visit: gisapp.adcogov.org/PropertySearch
- For more information on CORA, and to find our Department Contact List, visit: adamscountyco.gov/colorado-open-records-act-cora

“Who do I contact to see if my property can be used for a specific use?”

Contact our Planner of the Day for information regarding land use, zoning, subdivisions, principal use, performance standards, etc. at 720.523.6800 or email cedd-plan@adamscountyco.gov.

Public Improvements

“I want to know what future public roadway improvements are planned in the surrounding area. Who do I contact to learn more?”

Contact our Public Works Department at 720.523.6875 or publicworks@adamscountyco.gov. For a list of current Public Works projects, please visit adamscountyco.gov/active-public-works-projects.

Adams County Health Department (ACHD)

“Can I operate a body art establishment from my private home/residence?”

No, you must have an approved, separate facility to operate a body art establishment in Adams County.

“Does the Adams County Health Department license and inspect temporary body art events?”

Yes, ACHD does require a special event body art license, and an inspection may be conducted as well. Please call 303.288.6816 for more information.

“Do I need a license to operate my pool?”

No, ACHD does not license pools, but ACHD does charge an inspection fee, and they inspect public and semi-public pools twice a year.

“Where can I submit my plans for review for the Adams County Health Department?”

There are three options for submitting your plans for review with the ACHD: In person, by mail, or through the online portal.

For in person submissions or mail, the address is 7190 Colorado Blvd., Suite 200, Commerce City, CO 80022.

To submit online, please visit the portal at myhealthdepartment.com/adcogoveh.

You can also use this portal to pay invoices, and so much more!
